Key, it's fine. Sometimes I've found that it really helps just to talk about it no matter how small or big. :)

-sighs- I have people I consider family on here. There's four of us but I'm only going to be talking about two of them. and we're all family to eachother. I know they're busy with school and whatever else they're doing but they all know that the forums are getting deleted. Well, for two of them we won't ever see eachother again and the other I will see way way way less then I do now. One of them, we'll call her berry, has been on way more given the circumstances but the other one, we'll call her liv, hasn't really been on at all..

It hurts..it hurts a lot because it feels like school is taking priority over family and it makes me wonder if I am actually family to liv...I know she's extremely busy but wouldn't you want to spend these last few days with someone you'll never see again after this? Wouldn't you do everything you could to spend as much time as possible with that person?

It just feels like I'm not a priority in liv's life..especially when she said family is top priority.. It kinda makes me wonder things but then in the back of my mind I'm thinking maybe I'm being ridiculous. Maybe I'm not understanding and being patient.. -sighs-

Oh Key...I'm so sorry. I hope you'll be able to talk to her before this place dies. I'm really bad at giving advice, but maybe you could summon her/them and just tell her/them how you feel? I hate it that people can't go to home base. I'm sorry that your friends won't be able to see you again.

I like to do a lot of things but currently I've only had time for Explorers which is like a junior police academy or another way of putting it is boy scouts but police officer style. I want a career in law enforcement just not sure what field yet. But I like video games, Marvel, legos, Astronomy, woodworking, you name it and I more then likely like it.
